

Town Center at night | Augsburg

German for Juniors | Standard Courses 20 and 24

did deutsch-institut Augsburg

The Bavarian capital isn't far away – it's only a 40 minutes train ride to Munich! However, the third largest town in Bavaria has its own, very unique charms: Living is easier here, cozier, less hectic. All around town you see little fountains, people enjoying the afternoons in street cafes and students having fun at soccer games in the parks. And, certainly, you see and feel Augsburg's grand history: During the renaissance, this town was the center of architecture, music and art. Holbein's and Mozart's ancestors come from here, and Augsburg is also the hometown of the famous play writer Bertold Brecht. If you came here once, you'll always come back – and its only 40 minutes to Munich!
